Speaking to Kids

For All Those Who Work With Students & Would Like to Make It Better

'You fool. What did you do that for!'; 'Do that again and I'll see you outside.'; 'Bring it on idiot.'; 'Imbecile!' Believe it or not these are all sentences uttered by qualified, well-meaning dedicated teachers who just got it badly wrong. If you find that you're losing your patience with students more often than not and saying things you end up regretting then this is the Seminar for you.

For Principals, AP's:

The way we speak to our students in jest, in praise, in censure and as a matter of course, can leave a life-long imprint on the psyche and soul of a student. And while we have all said things we shouldn't have in the heat of the moment, there are strategies that can be implemented to make the most of every interaction with a student. Your staff learn from you and take their cues from you.

For Coordinators, Team Leaders, Heads of Groups:

The pressures on teachers, coordinators and leaders is only set to increase. If you are having trouble getting it right, then there is no better time to brush up on your skills. Students are not the enemy. They are not 'sludge,' 'bastards' or worse, eventhough we may become exasperated at times. The simple yet effective strategies you can employ will not only improve your relationship with students, they will enable you to pass on your talent for communication to the next generation.
